

CS 488 Task P.P: Final Presentation Deliverable

Submit the PDF document for your final presentation. Cover your project from start to end in appropriate detail. Be sure to introduce it and explain what it was intended to address. Beyond this point, it's up to you to decide how to distill the two quarters down to 15-20 minutes. Summarize the requirements, but do not list them. Also do not get excessively technical at the code level.

Include some kind of demo. It can be live or recorded.

Everyone must attend all presentations on March 20. We'll start the next presentation when the previous one finishes, so there's no specific schedule. There may be questions. Team size determines the total amount of time expected: about 15 minutes for three and 20 for four. Everyone should speak for roughly the same amount of time, but how you decide to order the speaking is up to you. It's ok to hand off back and forth, as long as the overall time for each person is balanced.
